

Find the ideal size for your bracelet in real wood

If you're undecided about what size to buy, think about how you like to wear a bracelet.

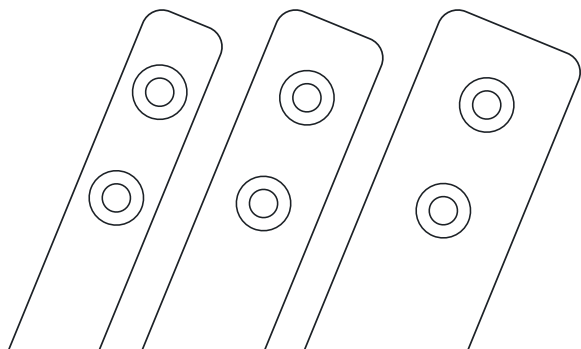

If you like to wear it tight on your wrist, choose the size closest to your wrist circumference, but if you like to wear it looser choose the larger size.

Bear in mind that, when you wear it, the bracelet will soften and become a little more “flexible”.

After a year of wearing it every day or at least very often, your bracelet could widen by about 1 centimeter.

To help you make your choice, try measuring a bracelet you already have.

In any case, remember that every bracelet has two different closures, 1 cm apart.
